

Dear colleagues, liebe Limesfreunde,

The International Congress of Roman Frontier Studies (Limes Congress) is one of the most important archaeological congresses in the world. Since 1949 the meetings took place in nearly every country where the Roman Frontiers were situated in the Roman period. In the final assembly during the XXII Congress in Ruse, Bulgaria, the participants voted Ingolstadt by acclamation to be the host of the forthcoming congress. The German Limes Commission (DLK) and the Bavarian State Conservation Office (BLfD) are proud to organise the XXIII Limes Congress.

The meeting will take place at the Ingolstadt University of Applied Sciences from September 12th-23rd in 2015. Papers and posters will be presented from September 14th-20th. On alternating days there will be visits to archaeological sites along the Raetian Limes in Bavaria as part of the UNESCO World Heritage Frontiers of the Roman Empire.

In addition we offer a Pre-Congress Excursion to the Danube-Limes between Passau and Straubing on the 12th and 13th of September and a Post-Congress Excursion to the Raetian and Upper German Limes in Baden-Württemberg from the 21st-23rd September. Please visit our website www.limes2015.org for further information. The congress registration will come up soon.

The topics of the approximately 20 sessions will range from questions about Roman frontiers, construction matters to subjects about arts and crafts, religion, food and even "Sex on the Limes". We invite you to propose a paper or a poster at the congress. For more details please contact the chairperson of your preferred session including a short abstract about your planned presentation. The official registration for contributions will come up on the website soon, too.

We hope to see you in Ingolstadt next year.

With kind regards from the German Limes and the organizing committee
